

Healthcare Lawyer c. 4–5 years PQE, London

Spire Healthcare is a dynamic, fast growing business owned by leading private equity firm, Cinven. Originally formed in 2007 from the sale of BUPA Hospitals, Spire has since expanded into a national network of 37 hospitals, making it the second largest private hospital group in the UK.

An exciting opportunity has arisen for a specialist healthcare lawyer to join the close-knit legal team at the head office in London. Reporting to the General Counsel and Company Secretary, and working with staff at all levels across the business, you will enjoy a broad and autonomous role, which will entail managing all Spire's contentious matters including litigation, liaising with insurers, providing regulatory advice to the business, taking the lead on data protection and information governance, and providing training to Spire staff in these areas. For those who relish variety, there will also be the opportunity to get involved in other work, including corporate transactions and commercial contracts.

To take on this role, you must be an experienced healthcare specialist and will currently be working in a law firm or healthcare competitor. Technically strong, you must demonstrate sound commercial judgement, a "can do" attitude and the inter-personal skills to work with a wide range of people with very different backgrounds. Internally, you will have daily contact with the senior management team and regular contact with everyone from the Board and private equity owners to the doctors, nurses and porters at the coalface. Externally, your work will bring you into contact with law firms, barristers, brokers, insurers, claims handlers and regulators.

This is a truly exceptional opportunity for a healthcare lawyer seeking a hands-on commercial role. It also offers plenty of scope for development as well as the chance to work with a high calibre legal team which is well respected and fully integrated within the business. A competitive salary and benefits package will be available.
