

FANTASTIC ROLE FO A JUNIOR LAWYER WITHIN SOCIAL MEDIA

Soho, London

1 to 3 years' PQE

Badoo is the largest social network for meeting new people locally in the world. 149 million members are already connected and more than 100,000 new members join every day. Launched in 2006 and headquartered in London, the site currently operates in around 180 countries worldwide and employs well over 200 full-time international staff. In July 2011, Badoo.com was ranked as the 59th most visited website in the world with 46 million unique visitors per month, ahead of CNN.com in 60th position.

Badoo is looking for a legal adviser to join its fast growing and dynamic team, reporting to the Head of Legal. The role will be broad and require you to provide general commercial legal support to the business in relation to commercial contracts, IP/IT, trade marks and domain names, data protection/privacy and e-commerce law.

To take on this role you should have a good academic record and law firm training behind you as well as experience in some or all of the areas mentioned above. Candidates with technology, social media or on-line experience will be at a distinct advantage, although this is by no means a requirement. Most important is finding someone who is passionate about the business, proactive and results driven. As the business is fast paced and the legal team often advises on cutting edge, innovative legal problems, it is crucial that you can work under pressure and are confident to take on projects outside of your comfort zone

This really is a fabulous opportunity for a junior lawyer hungry for responsibility and looking to make their mark.

For further information or to apply, please contact our exclusively retained consultants Sam Baker or Nick Creed at Baker Creed on 020 7871 1560 or email info@bakercreed.co.uk. All direct or third party applications will be forwarded to Baker Creed for consideration.

Baker Creed
in-house legal recruitment